Helping Others

Dig Into the Bible:

Luke 10:25-37; Romans 15:1-3; Galatians 6:1-5; 1 Peter 4:11

Helping others isn't always convenient. We often look the other way as we pass homeless people on the street or hang up when we get calls from charities raising money. But God tells us to help people in need. Make this week a "Helping Out" time for your family, and encourage every member of your family to find one way to help someone in your community. Return some extra carts at the grocery store, open a door for a stranger, offer to clean someone's car windows at a gas station, or help an elderly neighbor with some gardening. Working together and being creative will make helping others—and obeying God—extra fun.
