Have Courage
Game

FAMILY ACTIVITY

Help your child practice having courage by playing the Have Courage Game.

1. Pick two family members to stand up. Each will hold a piece of paper or a paper plate in front of his or her face. One of them will be the Happy Face and one of them will be the Boo Face. (You will need to change this up for each round of play.)
2. When the game begins, each person will take a turn picking one of the faces to be revealed. If the Happy Face is picked, the person will drop the plate and make a happy face. If the Boo Face is picked, the person will drop the plate and say boo at the player.
3. Talk about how no one knew what kind of face would be behind the plate. Each person needed to have courage even though they didn't know what would be revealed behind the plate. When they picked a plate they were showing courage.
4. Wrap up your time together by asking God to help each family member have courage in all situations.

Optional: You can reward the person who picks the happy face in each round with a sticker or piece of candy.
